Certificate Course in HUMAN RIGHTS AND VALUES IN EDUCATION

Course Rationale:

Human rights are commonly understood as “inalienable fundamental rights to which a person is inherently entitled simply because she or he is a human being.” Human rights are universal it means that everyone deserves to be treated with dignity and respect, no matter where they live or what their circumstance may be. Human rights are inherent to all human beings irrespective of our nationality, place of residence, sex, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, language or any other status. We are equally entitled to our human rights without discrimination. Universal Human rights are often expressed and guaranteed by law, in the forms of treaties, customary international law, general principle and other sources of international law. International human rights laws lay down obligations of government to act in certain ways or to refrain from certain acts, in order to promote human rights and fundamental freedoms of individuals or groups.

The situation of human rights in India is complex one, as a result of the country’s large size and tremendous diversity. It’s status as a developing country and a sovereign, secular, democratic republic and its history as a former colonial territory. The principle of Fundamental rights is enshrined in the Constitution of India which bestows upon the citizens the freedom of religion and the freedom of speech.

This certificate course in Human rights and Values in Education aims at creating the awareness among the students and make them aware about the basic human rights and values to strengthen the Human rights in society.
