INTRODUCTION

The specific objective of organizing this NAAC sponsored one day seminar on “Documentation and E-report preparation For New NAAC Methodology” in collaboration with Jagdambha College of Engineering and Technology, Yavatmal, is to make understand the participants about NAAC’s Revised Accreditation Framework (2017) with the help of eminent speakers and advisor of NAAC. IQAC is considered a think tank of the institution. Hence the working of IQAC has become very important at college level. Probably, the most important work of the IQAC is to organize and maintain records / documents of all relevant developmental activities of the institution.

Necessary software can be used for interchanging from one format to the other with minimum data distortion. Expertise for this is definitely available within the institute (Office or Computer Science Department). If necessary, one or two members of the IQAC could be trained for this. This seminar will be beneficial for the IQAC coordinators for the proper documentation.

We have received an overwhelming response for this seminar from participants. Total 46 Principal’s and 176 IQAC coordinators of various colleges have participated in this seminar. Total 39 staff members of the host institution have also participated in this seminar. We have received eminent resource persons like Dr. Vishnu Mahesh K R, Assistant Advisor, NAAC, Bengaluru, as a keynote speaker and Dr. Gururaj Dangre, Pratibha Institute of Business Management, Pune, for a plenary lecture.

On this occasion, I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the Hon’ble Principal, Sevadal Mahila Mahavidyalaya, for his motivation and support. My thanks are also due to Hon’ble Secretary of Jagdambha College of Engineering and Technology, Yavatmal, for their cooperation. I am also thankful to all the IQAC members and staff of Sevadal Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Nagpur. I would like to extend my deepest thanks to the Dignitaries, Distinguished Speakers, Guests, and Delegates, who have come from different parts of the country, to grace the occasion. This seminar report summarizes outcomes of the NAAC sponsored seminar.

INAUGURAL FUNCTION:

On the onset of the Inaugural Function, Vidyapeeth Geet (Song of Rashtrasant Tukadoji Maharaj Nagpur University, Nagpur) was presented by the students of the Music Department. In his welcome speech Prof. Pravin Charde, Principal, Sevadal Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Nagpur welcomed all the guests, Principals of various colleges and IQAC coordinators of various colleges for this seminar.

Principal Dr. Pravin Charde addressing the gathering

He appealed to the august gathering to inculcate scientific temperament for the sustainable development in the field of education by adopting the policies of NAAC. He proposed that this seminar will assist Higher Education Institutions to achieve NAAC accreditation and improve ranking in various national and international Higher Education ranking systems. He said that this seminar will guide the participants in various stages of NAAC such as on-line submissions of institutional information for quality assessment, Self Study Report, Data Validation and Verification, Student Satisfaction Survey, Peer Team Visit and Grade allocation.

In his address Dr. Shital Watile, Secretary, Jagdambha Education Society, Yavatmal, has extended sincere thanks to the Hon'ble Principal, Sevadal Mahila Mahavidyalaya, for his support.

Dr. Shital Watile

He also expresses his thanks to Dr. K R Vishnu Mahesh, Assistant Advisor, NAAC, Bengaluru, for accepting the invitation as a keynote speaker for the seminar. He further said that the seminar will definitely help the IQAC coordinators to understand the metrics for each Criterion, Key indicators and queries.

Dr. Pravin Deshpande

Dr. Pravin Deshpande, Organizing Secretary of the Seminar, focused upon the theme of the seminar and congratulated the IQAC coordinators from various colleges for showing overwhelming response for the seminar. He said that IQAC is considered a think tank of the institution. Hence the working of IQAC has become very important at college level. Dr. Vinayak Deshpande, Pro-Vice Chancellor, Rashtrasant Tukadoji Maharaj Nagpur University, Nagpur, in his Chief Guest Speech, congratulated the Principal of Sevalal Mahila Mahavidyalaya, to take lead role in organizing the seminar, which is the need of quality education for Higher Education Institutions.

Dr. Vinayak Deshpande

He added that participative management makes the institute high performing and innovative as all the stakeholders are involved in the progress of the institution and hence he congratulated the management of Sevalal Mahila

Mahavidyalaya, for their support in organizing the seminar. He further said that the seminar has provided a platform for brainstorming among all the participants about the various issues to understanding all parameters of quality assurance and sustenance as per the new guidelines of NAAC and some decisions to be expected.

Shri Sanjayji Shende, President, Sevadal Education Society

Shri Sanjayji Shende, President, Sevadal Education Society, Nagpur, in his Presidential address said that the College has always been on the forefront by organizing such seminars to discuss the role of NAAC in the development of Higher Education Institutes. He also congratulated the Principal and staff members of the College who took whole-hearted efforts in the development of an institution. He also welcomed all the guests, Principals of various colleges and IQAC coordinators of various colleges for this seminar.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS: (11:30 am to 1:00pm)

Dr. K R Vishnu Mahesh, Assistant Advisor, NAAC, Bengaluru was the Guest of Honour for inaugural function and keynote speaker. He began his keynote address on “Documentation and E-report preparation For New NAAC Methodology.” He has given detailed explanation regarding the Revised Accreditation Framework.

Keynote speaker Dr. K R Vishnu Mahesh

According to the keynote speaker, the three level accreditation processes will be ICT enabled with Student Satisfaction Survey and Data Verification and Validation adding value to the process. The first level would be submission of Institutional Information for Quality Assessment (IIQA) which is more or less similar to the Letter of Intent (LoI) of the earlier process. Unlike in the earlier system, two specific Windows will be opened in a year for HEIs to submit their applications.

On acceptance of the IIQA, institutions can submit their data /information online in the formats provided as Manuals for Self Study Report (SSR).

Second level, data /information submitted in the SSR will be subjected to an online assessment mechanism/process with Data Validation and Verification (DVV) process after an online evaluation generating a pre-qualifier score.

Institutions securing 30% on the quantitative metrics will qualify for onsite peer review/ assessment. The pre-qualifier scores are exclusive of the Student Satisfaction Survey (SSS).

The onsite assessment will be a peer review by visiting teams nominated by NAAC and will focus on the assessment of information provided on the qualitative metrics. The quantitative and qualitative metrics are distributed in proportion of around 2/3rd and 1/3rd respectively. He has given explanation about all the seven criterions like,

Criterion I – Curricular Aspects,

Criterion II -Teaching-Learning and Evaluation,

Criterion III – Research, Innovations and Extension,

Criterion IV – Infrastructure and Learning Resources,

Criterion V - Student Support and Progression,

Criterion VI –Governance, Leadership and Management and

Criterion VII –Institutional Values and Best Practices

According to him NAAC has introduced following changes in RAF.

1. Introduction of Pre-qualifier for peer team visit, as 30% of system generated score.
2. Introducing System Generated Scores (SGS) with combination of online evaluation (about 70%) and peer judgement (about 30%).
3. In introducing the element of third party validation of data by Data validation and verification DVV.
4. In providing appropriate differences in the metrics, weightages and benchmarks to universities, autonomous colleges and affiliated/constituent colleges.
5. In revising several metrics to bring in enhanced participation of students and alumni in the assessment process.
6. Introduction of data based quantitative indicator evaluation with increased objectivity and transparency.
7. Extensive use of ICT confirming scalability and robustness.
8. Reduction in number of questions, size of the report and visit days.
9. Stages of SSR Preparation and submission.(before, during and after SSR submission)
10. New Changes introduced about key indicators in Revised Accreditation Framework of NAAC.
11. Instructions to the Institutions (HEI's) for submission of Institutional Information for Quality Assessment (IIQA).
12. List of documents required to be uploaded in pdf format.
13. Distribution of Metrics and Key indicators across all the seven Criteria with examples and weightages.

DISCUSSION: (1:00 pm to 2:00pm)

Dr. K R Vishnu Mahesh, Assistant Advisor, NAAC, Bengaluru has actively taken part in the discussion. In this session he has answered all the queries of the participants.

PLANERY TALK: (2:30 pm to 3:30pm)

Dr. Gururaj Dangare, HOD, MBA Pratibha Institute of Business Management, Pune, was the second Guest of Honour for the inaugural function and speaker of the session after lunch. He has delivered his talk on “Start up and Incubation centre in affiliated colleges.”

He said that mentorship is a critical foundational component for building a successful start-up. Research from the Federation of Small Businesses has shown that small businesses that have received mentorship have superior survivability rates when compared to non-mentored businesses. According to him there are five critical elements that every start-up should look for in a start-up mentor.

Industry Knowledge: A mentor from the same industry vertical and in the specific area of your start-up would help you understand the nuances of the business and the varied nature of the market. General mentors typically provide generic advice and this, at times, would not be applicable for your start-up. There are cases where a mentor who was considered an innovation stalwart was considered a poor mentor by a start-up that was working in specific niche areas.

Entrepreneurs: It always helps if you are mentored by someone who has gone through the process of entrepreneurship and has been successful at it. Mentors from corporate who manage large businesses are fine, but it is a different ballgame when you need to validate your idea, raise money and steer the company through difficult times. Entrepreneurship is hard and someone who has walked that path can understand the various issues and guide you appropriately. A mentor who has built a company from idea to exit is ideal.

Network Effects: A mentor with strong connections in the industry and the ecosystem you are operating in is highly valuable. The mentor has the potential to open multiple doors for you. The mentor could leverage his connections to bring in extended network effects that can provide you with early customer trials, strategic engagements, potential customers, interested investors and many more.

Chemistry: You will need to closely work with your mentor; therefore good chemistry between the mentor and the mentee will immensely help. The mentor should empathise with you, help you look at the bigger picture and assist you through the various trials and tribulations faced by the start-up. Depression and blues are common problems faced by young entrepreneurs, and a good mentor can help reduce some of the burden. However, it is good to avoid strongly opinionated mentors. There should be space to openly discuss differing viewpoints and merge on common grounds quickly.

Visionary & Problem Solver: Two key elements for a start-up are finding creative solutions to current problems and looking beyond the current daily buzz of the start-up. A great start-up mentor should help you find great solutions for the problems faced by your start-up, like funding, technology, market access or organisation culture. The mentor should help you build solutions to these problems creatively and efficiently, and bring forth his experiential knowledge to tackle similar situations. The mentor should also help you look beyond the daily operational and tactical issues faced by your start-up and help you build a grander vision for it. The mentor should help you look at the evolving technology trends and changing market dynamics help you build alternative revenue streams, and scale and solidify your position in the market.

Overall, be careful and cognizant while choosing a mentor for your start-up. A single mentor may not have all the elements listed above, and therefore you may need two or three mentors with different levels of engagements guiding you. But if you do find a person with all the above characteristics, you will definitely benefit from his or her guidance.

DISCUSSION: (3:30 pm to 4:30pm)

There are plenty of questions from the participant regarding Revised Accreditation Framework (RAF) to Dr. Vishnu Mahesh K R and for start-up to Dr. Gururaj Dangare. Both handled the questions in the most appropriate way to satisfy the participants to greater extent.

VALEDICTORY FUNCTION: (4:30 pm to 5:30pm)

Dr. H. M. Baradkar, Principal, Jagdambha Education Society, Yavatmal, was the chief guest of the Valedictory function. The function was chaired by Prof. Pravin Charde Principal, Sevalal Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Nagpur. Dr. Shital Watile Secretary, Jagdambha Education Society, Yavatmal, Dr. K R Vishnu Mahesh, Assistant Advisor, NAAC, Bengaluru and Dr. Gururaj Dangare, HOD, MBA, Pratibha Institute of Business Management, Pune, was the Guest of Honour for this function.

At the end of the seminar Mrs. S. M. Nimbarte, Assistant Professor, Department of Microbiology, on behalf of the host institution, has expressed vote of thanks to the Dignitaries, Distinguished Speakers, Guests, IQAC coordinators, who have come from different colleges, to grace the occasion.
